Dear Members and Friends:

This newsletter is all about voting! Choice-making. The most fundamental right afforded citizens in a democracy. Our focus is in celebration of the 100th anniversary of the 19th amendment; in response to overt voter suppression across the country; in honor of those who have fought and died for the franchise; in recognition that majorities rule in democracies. No election in our lifetimes has been more consequential.

Our future as a democracy and the survival of our planet hang in the balance. I listened to a young New York Times journalist, Charlie Warzel, talk about the western fires and apocalyptic orange sky as a "radicalizing moment" for climate action. He means, we need to change our behavior NOW! And he says, we must turn to young people for their urgency and leadership. Their birthright is on the line.

As elders in the community, I believe we need to stand in solidarity with them. Send a signal that we think they’re smart and their opinions matter; we care as much as they do and we want to work together to ensure our future. Turn our anxiety into collaborative action! To demonstrate our faith in their equal voice, the SFV Board of Directors has voted to endorse Proposition G on the San Francisco ballot, extending voting rights to 16 and 17-year-olds in local elections. You can read about the proposition here--vote16sf.org.

What’s next? Starting this month, Bill Haskell has agreed to facilitate a book study group using Jane Fonda’s new book What Can I Do? My Path from Climate Despair to Action. Arianna Nassiri, a 17-year-old college freshman and San Francisco Youth Commissioner, will talk about Proposition G and ask for your support. Jessica Da Silva and Sarah Kent, Millennials and SFV staff members, will lead a discussion about Get Out the Vote efforts and share their perspective on what voting means to them. The League of Women Voters will explain the ballot initiatives and the San Francisco Department of Elections will talk about voting safely during the pandemic. Finally, you’re invited to an intergenerational Experience Exchange with Millennial women to share personal stories that have shaped your civic consciousness.

A few years ago, Proposition I established the Dignity Fund in San Francisco, a budget set-aside that makes sure the growing older adult population in San Francisco is protected and cared for. Prop I passed with 66% of the vote; many of those votes coming from Generation X, Millennials and Generation Z. If ever there was a time to build a new majority, it is NOW!

Warm regards,

Kate

RSVP to (415) 387-1375 or info@sfvillage.org to receive the Zoom link and telephone number

San Francisco Village first welcomed Arianna Nassiri on stage with Kate at State of the Village this past February. We are thrilled to have her join us via Zoom to share about Prop G, the proposition to lower the voting age to 16 in San Francisco. She’ll discuss how extending voting rights to 16- and 17-year-olds is about increasing voter turnout and civic engagement in the long term.

Arianna leads the Vote 16 campaign in SF. She’s been involved with the mayor’s office since she was accepted for an internship (created for college students) at age 12 and now, at 17 years old, is a freshman at Georgetown University studying Political Science and Government.

This 6 week series started in September and you are welcomed to join at any time

Join theater maker Evan Johnson (Place in Place!), dance maker Liv Schaffer (University of San Francisco/Dance Generators), and a cohort of young activists as we consider what role art making plays in the face of racial and social justice. Using a variety of starting points, we will attempt to make sense of this national crisis by initiating an intergenerational dialogue about racial equity through embodied expression, storytelling, and project-based exploration.

This intergenerational workshop series will guide participants through creative activities, personal contemplations, and group conversations that recognize inherent racial biases, address racial equity, and celebrate Black brilliance. Learn more at the introduction session on September 1 and meet the team of creative guides and young activists participating, then sign up for the six-week series to participate!

All minds, bodies, and creeds welcome.

Active Coping Strategies for Patients and Caregivers

Monday, October 12, 3:00 – 4:00 PM

RSVP to (415) 387-1375 or info@sfvillage.org to receive the Zoom link and telephone number

We are never prepared for the intrusion of illness or trauma into our lives; nor are we ready for the disruptions that illness introduces into the relationship we have with our partner. In this program, Barbara will share the deep and practical lessons she learned in doing research for her book, Love in the Time of Chronic Illness: How to Fight the Sickness, Not Each Other, a guide for couples (and other patient/caregiver dyads) living with illness, and for the clinicians who help them.

Barbara will discuss the dynamics of patient/caregiver relationships, as well as active coping strategies patients and caregivers can use to: build the relationship resilience needed to cope with the turbulence of illness, work as a team when dealing with the health care system, and create hope. Clinicians who work with patient/caregiver partners will also find this talk very useful.

Barbara Kivowitz is a clinician, consultant, and author specializing in healthcare innovation. She is a frequent speaker at conferences for patient-caregiver groups and for clinicians. She is a Patient Family Advisor at Stanford Health Care, Sutter Health, and CPMC. She is on the Board of Directors of San Francisco Village, on the Honorary Board of Well Spouse Association, and on the Advisory Board of Patient and Family Centered Care Partners. Barbara's background is in the fields of organizational development and psychology. Barbara has been both the patient and the caregiver in her relationship with her husband.

Have you always wanted to write your memoir but didn’t know where to start? Have you got some poems tucked away in a drawer? Do you have an idea for a gripping novel? Or do you just want to put pen to paper -- wondering if poetry, an essay or a short story will emerge?

If you answered “yes” to any of these questions, we invite you to the San Francisco Village Writers’ Workshop.

We welcome writers of all levels and will try different writing styles – from memoir, to poetry to short and long fiction. We will explore poets and authors that resonate with us – and try to figure out how they transfer their experiences, thoughts and feelings to the written page. And we will, to paraphrase poet Robert Frost, learn how to “surprise our readers, and ourselves, with our words.”

The Writers’ Workshop is led by writer and journalist Elaine Elinson, author of the award-winning Wherever There’s a Fight and former editor of the ACLU News. Elinson, has led writing workshops at SFV since 2015. We will have six 1.5 hour sessions on ZOOM.

We welcome those who have been part of the Writers Workshop in the past and we also welcome newcomers! No experience necessary!

There are significant moments in everyone’s day that can make literature. That’s what you ought to write about. (Raymond Carver, On Being a Writer).

Let's make it personal! We'll break into pairs or small groups to have cross-generational dialogue about your own experiences and family history. Who was the first woman in your family to vote after the 19th amendment was ratified? What was the first presidential election you voted in and what does it mean to you? Was there a political moment that initiated your political activism? Who are your political heroes?

What Can I Do: Moving from Climate Despair to Climate Action
Thursday, October 22, 10:00 – 11:30 AM
RSVP to SFV member Bill Haskell for Zoom link.

At 82, Jane Fonda is articulate, persuasive, engaging and powerful. She is impassioned by action to improve the environment and stop further climate destruction. Now, with the fires raging, and becoming even more isolated by the smoke and bad air, let's gather to explore what climate actions might be possible!

Please order Fonda’s new book What Can I Do: Moving from Climate Despair to Climate Action from your local bookstore and read before our meeting. From our discussions, we’ll discover actions that feel right for us to undertake. The devastating fires in the West and hurricanes in the East are proof that we need to do something. And Fonda tells us that our actions will make a difference. Moving from despair to action sounds like it might be just the ticket. Contact Bill Haskell with any questions.

Hi Fellow Solo-Agers! Have you been going through this high-pressure time pretty much alone? While some things are opening up, there's an ongoing pandemic and more fires predicted. So perhaps it's time to connect with others who are also solo and trying to make things work.

“Zoom” to a discussion, moderated by Betty Burr, to connect with and help other “solos” through what you have learned. Pick up hints from people you have met in the solo circle. Figure out what you would really like to be able to do despite sheltering in place and see if anyone else would also like to join in. (With a social distance, of course.) In other words, don't be solo at a time like this! For more information, contact Betty Burr.

Add a little more Spanish conversation to your life! This group, led by members, is aimed at intermediate speakers and those who speak fluently; there will be no formal instruction. Not sure if your Spanish is up for it? Check it out!

We will discuss current events. Members and guests welcomed. FYI, Eva sends out a reminder to those who have attended in the past so it keeps going. Come on over! All members welcome.

Election Day is coming right up

San Francisco Village member, Pat Walker, is offering to help her neighbors in the Richmond or Sea Cliff area who need help with voting by mail, early voting, or even assistance with going to the polls in person (masked and distanced, of course).

The pandemic has brought a lot of changes to the voting process this year. Don't take any chances by waiting until the last minute to register or to figure out where your polling place is as you may discover you are unable to vote. Make a plan now. Ask for help, if you need it. The deadline to register to vote is October 19th.

Richmond/Sea Cliff members please contact Pat if you need help this year.

Members outside of the Richmond/Sea Cliff area contact jill@sfvillage.org

Chess Club Forming
Anyone interested in playing (or learning to play) chess, there is a club forming with Next Village and D2 University, a Village to Village thing. Beginners are welcome. Right now we periodically meet on Zoom to pair people up. Then play happens via email and can go on for days. You must be 60 or over, have a chess set, and access to email. It is a lot of fun and leads to some good conversation. More experienced players give pointers, and you can develop into a good player of this classic strategic game. Please notify SFV member, Allegra Fortunati if you are interested.

In Memorium

Robert Hildreth (right) was an artist, a renaissance man of many talents, and a loving husband. He was an absolutely joyous presence, with his hearty laugh and good humor, at our 94114 Neighborhood Circle events, especially our holiday parties. Robert is survived by his wife, Mei-Ling Kwei. His obituary says, in his memory, he would ask you to VOTE!
William Wise (left, with wife Angie) worked as a chemist with USDA until he retired in 2002. He and Angie lived an active life of weekly hikes and camping and were members of the Unitarian Universalist Church. Bill suffered several strokes starting in July, and died, peacefully, at home in August with his wife Angie and son beside him. We extend our deepest sympathies to Angie and her family.

Thursdays. November 19 and December 3, 3:30 – 5:30 PM
RSVP to (415) 387-1375 or info@sfvillage.org to receive the Zoom link

A 2-part workshop offered by Redwing Keyssar, RN, Author, Director of Patient and Caregiver Education at the UCSF MERI Center for Education in Palliative Care to assist people in creating meaningful and personalized Advance Directives for Healthcare.

Advance Care planning is critical for everyone! It is not just for people who have an illness. Every adult in our country should have this paperwork in place.

Many people have created documents of this type in the past, but then have forgotten where they are or what they wrote down as being important! This workshop will give you an opportunity to review/revise what you have written in the past and create a new document that is specific and detailed regarding your wishes of how you would want to be cared for, if you had a medical event or serious illness and could not speak for yourself.

These issues are particularly important to consider, during this time of a global pandemic.
Please join the MERI Center and San Francisco Village in our unique workshop model that we have perfected over many years! There will be plenty of time for conversation and questions.

Did you Know: 90% of people believe talking with their loved ones about their medical wishes is important, but only 27% have done so. Let's make it 100%!
